UTILITY is still having trouble getting HEUSINGER's agreement on the appointment of @MERKER to a military post in Washington. This is partly because HEUSINGER feels MERKER is too senior; partly because he is too much UTILITY's man; and partly because Hans SPEIDEL and the former General BERENDEAN are also under consideration for the military attache assignment. MERKER still has his own sights set on a year or two in Washington as a member of the Military Representatives Committee of NATO which is in permanent session in Washington, D.C. He feels this vould give him more freedom than he would enjoy in the M.A. position which will, according to HEUSINGER, be very much under the control of the German Ambassador.
